Enough of this savagery

Summary:
Too many groups are getting a payoff from the tragedies and chaos we are regularly seeing. Is it really too difficult for world leaders to help us all live in peaceful, civilised freedom?

Article InformationCategory: Dr Brandson's Blog
Author: Dr P Brandson
Source: BRN Facebook
Date First Published: 17 Nov 2015

Posted ByPeter Brandson
17 Nov 2015 - 12:00am

Paris Attack - Unconscionable Savagery

First - we give our deepest condolences to all those affected by the Paris atrocity. Second we make some observations that may be of interest.

Since 2001 we have seen all Western governments continually increase mass surveillance of their citizens. At the same time freedoms and rights that had been taken for granted have been diminished. In the USA - their Constitution and its protections are constantly under attack. Examples include the US Patriot Act .... and in Australia we have the new Metadata laws.

© Bank Reform Now™ - Australian Non Profit Organsiation - campaigning to put a stop to predatory, unconscionable banking practices.

Edward Snowden exposed just how massive the surveillance is. It seems like a police state has been imposed with barely a whimper. All your computer and telephone communications are able to be recorded and monitored in some manner.

If the outrageous Paris atrocity can happen with the intense surveillance currently throughout Europe and the rest of the "free world" it begs a few questions:

Have much of the resources used for global surveillance been misallocated and wasted?

Should better intelligence and policing techniques have been used to target specific and likely terrorist threats?

Have our freedoms and rights been reduced for no real security benefit?

With such massive surveillance systems in place could it be that the French threat was detected and not acted upon in a timely or appropriate manner? This last point sounds ludicrous until you recall how often in the past we have been lied to by politicians working toward an agenda not supported by the people but rather one in the interests of the military and financial sectors. We won't list them here but you surely know of many examples.

Folks I hate to break it to you but we have been cornered with the classic one two pincer movement.

The West is being attacked by "religious" jihadist fanatics who use sickening and vicious tactics. They want us dead or living under laws that remove our freedoms and rights. Do you want their terrorism leading us to live as slaves - existing under an oppressive medieval regime?

Or would you prefer to be enslaved by your own government. One that takes advantage of the terrorism and uses lies and treachery to take away the same freedoms and rights?

See the trick? Whichever path we go down we have lost our opportunity to live in civilised freedom.

There is a battle going on in our world but its not the one you are being told about. Pity they don't really teach history in our schools. We would have been living in peaceful freedom long ago if we really knew what has been going on.

Is this far fetched? Could governments really be working against our interests?

Our government is happy to virtually giveaway our natural resources to foreign corporations. Happy to see our farmers forced off their lands. Happy for our young to be priced out of the housing market. Happy to enable foreign currency money laundering. Happy for bankers to run: a clearly unsustainable ponzi scheme; a predatory lending racket; a rate rigging operation; a financial planner scam to rip off mums and dads.

But wait, there's more. Happy for us to be milked our whole working lives by a criminal financial system - and then, after 50 years of this, most of us ending up living on a lousy pension.

And to top it off ..... our pollies are happy to generate a massive debt that even our great grand kids will never pay off. Their inheritance will be a lifetime of debt and taxes. Much of which will be transferred directly to upper echelon bankers and an arms industry that will make many billions out of the looming chaos and turmoil.

We have long ago forgotten what values enable us to live in civilised freedom. Some politicians understand this so when you hear a pollie talk about protecting our freedoms and values .... most of them are lying. Call them out on it. Expose their hypocrisy. Look at their actions .... not their words. Pollies are protecting corporate interests - pure and simple - not ours. We are at a turning point right now. Don't let the manipulators divide us by race, religion, sex, skin colour etc, etc. We are all human beings with very similar desires and needs. One of those needs is the ability to walk our streets without fear for ourselves and our loved ones. Do you want an open and fair society or a closed brutal oppressive one where your only purpose is to work, consume, pay debts and die? We really don't have much time to take the appropriate action.

It really is time to shatter the illusion of democracy as we know it.

The Government will never give us Liberty. We have to take it..! Viva La Revolution.

Source URL (modified on 5 Jan 2017 - 12:47am): https://mail.reformnow.com.au/node/310

© Bank Reform Now™ - Australian Non Profit Organsiation - campaigning to put a stop to predatory, unconscionable banking practices.