Election wipe out for MPs who ignore the will of the people

Summary:
People power ramps up to save our democracy and country. For too long both major parties have allowed the finance sector to engage in misconduct and crime. The 2019 election is our best chance to change banking and politics. We encourage you to only vote for candidates that support good policy. The first test? We want all politicians to support a longer and stronger Banking Royal Commission. Commissioner Hayne has ignored too much of the most serious abuses. Now we will make sure Scott Morrison supports us by getting the LNP marginal seat candidates on side. Here's how we can all do it.

Urgent Action - Marginal Seat Candidates Put On Notice

The Morrison government is in crisis. Their marginal seat candidates are facing a wipe out at election 2019. Morrison's advisers have decided to cut the number of sitting days to about 10 before the 2019 election

Too much has not been looked at by Hayne - asset stripping, legal manipulation, liquidator abuses and so much more. The RC has exposed some horrifying misconduct but it is the tip of the iceberg and doesn't touch the dark side of banking [download pdf below for the 10 Reason to Extend the RC]

The ALP has called for an extended Royal Commission. That is not enough. Bill Shorten and his key ministers must this week call for Morrison and Hayne to expand the terms of reference and the duration of the inquiry. Commissioner Hayne must be joined - or replaced - by two or three independent Commissioners.

Right now - TODAY - please contact the following LNP marginal seat candidates. Tell them you want them to publicly call for a longer and stronger Royal Commission. You also want them to commit to crossing the floor if necessary to have Scott Morrison fall in line and support the will of the people. The banks were playing games when they authorised the Royal Commission to run their way. We are now changing the rules and having it run our way - a way that ends the rip offs and serves our country ..... as the finance system must.

Some of these candidates may choose to become independent if they truly are sick of the party political machinations that see them forced to support policies they know are against our country's interests.
